

The Federal Communications Commission

Dear The Federal Communications Commission,

I do not want to pay more for my telephone service! I am a senior citizen who has a cell phone strictly for security purposes. I urge you to reject a flat fee proposal that would change how contributions are made to the Universal Service Fund. I am concerned that this proposal could make my current service unaffordable.

Under the flat fee proposal you are considering, people who make few long distance calls would pay the same as people or businesses that make many calls. In other words, low-volume and primarily residential customers would bear the same universal service fund burden as a high-volume residential or business customers. This is unfair!
Please do not penalize the "sometime user".
Sincerely, George and Sally Westbrook

Sincerely,

Sally Westbrook
